1 Richard Wood files this objection regarding the admission into evidence of 2 exhibits used during the testimony of Joseph Scalamini, should any party seek to admit 3 them.

4 An expert may state the matters on which he or she relied, but may not testify to 5 the details of those matters if they are otherwise inadmissible. (People v. Coleman
6 (1985) 38 Cal.3d 69, 92; Furtado v. Montebello Unified School District (1962) 206
7 Cal.2d 72, 79. “Likewise, while an expert may state on direct examination he or she 8 relied on information contained in certain reports, the expert may not testify as to the 9 contents of such reports.” (Wegner et al., Civil Trials and Evidence (Rutter 2010) §
10 8:761; Continental Airlines v. McDonnell Douglas Corp. (1989) 216 Cal.App.3d 388, 11 416; Grimshaw v. Ford Motor Co. (1981) Cal.App.3d 757, 788.) Exhibits 20, 23, 24, 26
12 to 28, 33 to 45, 59 to 63 to 65, 71 to 77, 83, 84, 95, 97, 98, and 101 all violate these 13 evidentiary rules. Mr. Scalamini has chosen to conduct essentially no field work or 14 first-hand data gathering; instead, his testimony is almost entirely dependent on data 15 gathered by third parties, the reliability of which cannot be verified, or tested through 16 cross examination. While he may rely on hearsay information in forming his opinions, 17 this underlying data and the conclusions of third parties cannot come into evidence.

18 Many of Mr. Scalamini’s exhibits are entirely hearsay, and not subject to any 19 exception to the rule. Exhibits 4 through 11, 13 and 14 are each objectionable on these 20 grounds. The testimony of the witness failed to establish that the various quoted sources 21 are actually accurate, i.e. that the texts and authors cited actually said what they are 22 asserted to have said. Furthermore, these exhibits constitute improper expert testimony 23 on the law. It is the Court’s job to establish the legal definition of safe yield and 24 overdraft, not the expert witnesses.
