

Figure 3. Carbon-14 activity in water from wells in the Mojave River and the Morongo ground-water basins, western Mojave Desert, southern California, 1992-2000.

Exhibit 1. Lower right-hand map is a close-up from the upper map and shows the predominant groundwater flow direction from the Sheep Creek mountain front toward the Mojave River to the east. Source: Izbicki and Michels, 2004.