

Appropriate Hydrologic Unit = Ground-Water Basin

Ground-Water Basin = all the interrelated and interconnected earth materials (aquifers) which contain and yield water in sufficient quantity to be a substantial water supply

Ground-Water Basin = those same earth materials (aquifers) from which all significant pumping takes place

Ground-Water Basin = the hydrologic unit used by courts historically in all cases adjudicating rights to ground water