

y Broadway, a
as, Joe Broad-
ra, Calif., and
ay, Canoga

the Wednesday
es was Rev.
rd, United
hurch, Lan-

local arrange-
maw Funeral
er.

rl Lee
today

ces for Jerry
be conducted
in the Halley-
Chapel, Palm-
y. Robert W.
First Pres-
h Interment
hua Memorial

1933, in Clovis,
dr. Lee had
Antelope Valley
was employed
onautics Ad-
in electronics
as a veteran
afflict, serving
ivy. Mr. Lee
norama City.
vived by his
he Lynn Lee
family home;
de C. Lee,
US Air Force
T e x a s ;
re and a
Lee, both of

s. Claude J.
obby R. Lee,
her, James
is, N. Mex.

and last year, 400 a month
plus 15 per cent of the gross
income from any sales,
primarily purchases of
wildflower seeds.

AVC Theater to present new fantasy

The whimsical folklore fantasy, "The Ghost of the Chinese Elm", will open a series of 10 performances at 7:30 p.m. today (Thursday, Feb. 7) in Theater 300 at the AV College. Evening performances will be daily through Saturday Feb. 9, with matinees at 2 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 9-10. The cast also will tour with the show to perform at five elementary schools.

Directed by Susan Bewley, assisted by AVC students Rose Hick and Lyle Lapham, the plot concerns a delinquent Pixie, Twink, who has taken a dog's name not realizing he has broken a cardinal rule of the pixies to never take anything belonging to a creature.

When Twink refuses to return the name, the dog and his mistress visits the pixie kingdom to enlist the help of the Ghost of the Chinese Elm and the contest is joined.

Reservations are available for all Theater 300 performances by calling 943-3241, extension 265. Admission is $1.50 for adults; one dollar for ASBcard holders; 75 cents for children under 12 years.

cision, over a year ago, to convert the unused county facilities at Lake Hughes into the Lake Hughes Rehabilitation Center for alcoholics.

The board strongly urged the County Supervisors to retain the Lake Hughes facility as an alcoholic rehabilitation center. The resolution was made by Mollie Barber and seconded by Tim McCauley.

The Board unanimously adopted a strong resolution that the California Coastal Zone Conservation Commission rescind its prior decision and grant immediate approval for the full development of the San Onofre nuclear generating station.

Director Rex Fisher who submitted the resolution, has a masters degree in ecology, said he is a strong conserva-

Wally Spinarski will address southland group

The worsening water situation in Antelope Valley-East Kern will be explained to state-wide water experts at a Southland meeting Friday, Feb. 3.

Wally Spinarski, general manager of Antelope Valley-East Kern Water Agency, will address the monthly meeting of the California Water Resources Association in Inglewood.

Spinarski will describe the rapid decline in local groundwater tables. He will also review the Agency's plan to make State Project water available to community water systems in the area.

revival meetings set in Palmdale

Rev. Forest Combs will hold a series of revival meetings at the Pentacostal Holiness Church, 38450 27th St. E., Palmdale, Monday, Feb. 11, through Sunday, Feb. 17.

Opal Plowman, pastor, announced that everyone is welcome.

Man charged with molesting 6 young girls

MOJAVE — A 49-year-old Actis Garden man was due to be arraigned yesterday in Superior Court in Bakersfield on six counts of child molesting.

Arrested Monday by Kern County sheriff's deputies was Marilyn Gilmore Sprague, who has been charged with molesting six young girls, five to 13 years old, also living at Actis Gardens.

AFFTC...

(Continued from Page 1)

lot in the China-Burma-India theater during World War II. And in recent years made 192 combat missions in Southeast Asia.

Gen. Rushworth had graduated from the Air Force Test Pilot School here in 1957, before his assignment as one of the 11 Air Force and NASA pilots carrying out the nearly 200 research flights with the X-15.

charter trips, regardless of the destination. The present schedule sets down specific charter fees for specific destinations.

The initial proposal for the new transit system fees was presented to the city council during its Feb. 4 meeting at city hall.

In other news stemming from that session, the council adopted a resolution reestablishing Nov. 11 as Veterans Day. This action falls in line with a recent move in Sacramento in which the state legislature passed a bill declaring that Veterans Day — previously known as Armistice Day — be celebrated again on Nov. 11.

Audio Analysis program set at Loewen's

The "Marantz Audio Analysis Program" called "MAAP", will be in Lancaster on Friday, Feb. 8, at Loewen's, 759 W. Lancaster Blvd. The program will be operative from noon till 8 p.m.

This is a unique program, operated by expert Marantz Technicians, using specially designed testing equipment that will accurately measure the capabilities of any amplifier or amplifier section of any receiver.

Designed and built at a cost of over $7000, the elaborate testing system enables any audiophile to learn if his equipment measures up to the specifications advertised by the manufacturer.

Antelope Valley Museum
Feb 1974
p. 2

Antelope Valley 2 pdf. 71