The Maximum Day is the day during 2009 with the highest total water usage. Once this day has been identified, complete the section below indicating how much of the water on that day was from each source. Only report Maximum Day if it is actually measured or determined from production records. It should not be the average day demand during the maximum month of production.

The Maximum Month is the month during 2009 with the highest total water usage. Indicate the month in the section below for each source and the amount that was supplied.

For questions below asking for amounts of water produced, purchased, or sold, please select units of measure: Gallons Million Gallons Acre-feet (AF) 100 cubic feet

Groundwater

Date in 2009 maximum amount of groundwater was produced: 9/8/2009

Amount of groundwater produced in the Maximum Day: 168000

Month in 2009 maximum groundwater was produced: September

Amount of groundwater produced in the Maximum Month: 2945000

PWS = Public Water System

* Calculated field

Non-potable = water supplies that do not enter the drinking water distribution system and are for non-potable uses only such as irrigation or toilet flushing
 Only report Maximum Day if it is actually measured or determined from production records. It should not be the average day demand during the maximum month of production.

Do not include raw water purchased; report only volume of water that was treated.

³(F) Total Amount of Potable Water = Sum of Columns (C), (D) and (E), automatically calculated. To update, click below
